A NEW VIEW OF THE HISTORIC COHOES FALLS NOW AVAILABLE, ALL THANKS TO A PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP. COHOES CITY OFFICIALS JOINED WITH BROOKFIELD RENEWABLE ENERGY TO OPEN THE FOUR-ACRE FALLS VIEW PARK. THE COMPANY OPERATES A HYDROELECTRIC PLANT NEXT TO THE FALLS. MAYOR JOHN MCDONALD SAYS IT'S BEEN THREE TO FOUR YEARS IN THE MAKING, AND CREDITS THE EFFORTS OF THE COMPANY TO MAKE A SERIOUS EFFORT TO ENHANCE THE COMMUNITY. THE PARK IS HOME TO AN 80-PERSON AMPHITHEATER, AND WILL BE OPEN DAILY FROM MAY THROUGH NOVEMBER. CONSTRUCTION ON A RECREATION TRAIL LEADING DOWN TO THE BANKS OF THE HUDSON WILL BEGIN IN THE NEXT MONTH.
